TERROIR

Located in the heart of the Cima-Corgo sub-region and bathed for 1.5 km by the waters of the left bank of the Douro River, Quinta das Tecedeiras owes its name to the nuns who inhabited it and dedicated themselves to the weaving of linen that in the past it was cultivated there.

The soils are of schist and the exposure is north and east, with vineyards between 90m and 190m in altitude. The grapes ripen well and with a great concentration of aromas and flavors without losing their freshness. When the vineyards were reconverted, care was taken to leave some parcels of old vine, whose grapes carefully integrate the lots of all DOC or Porto das Tecedeiras red wines.
